

Calderdale LSOAs within IMD 2025

30% most deprived nationally

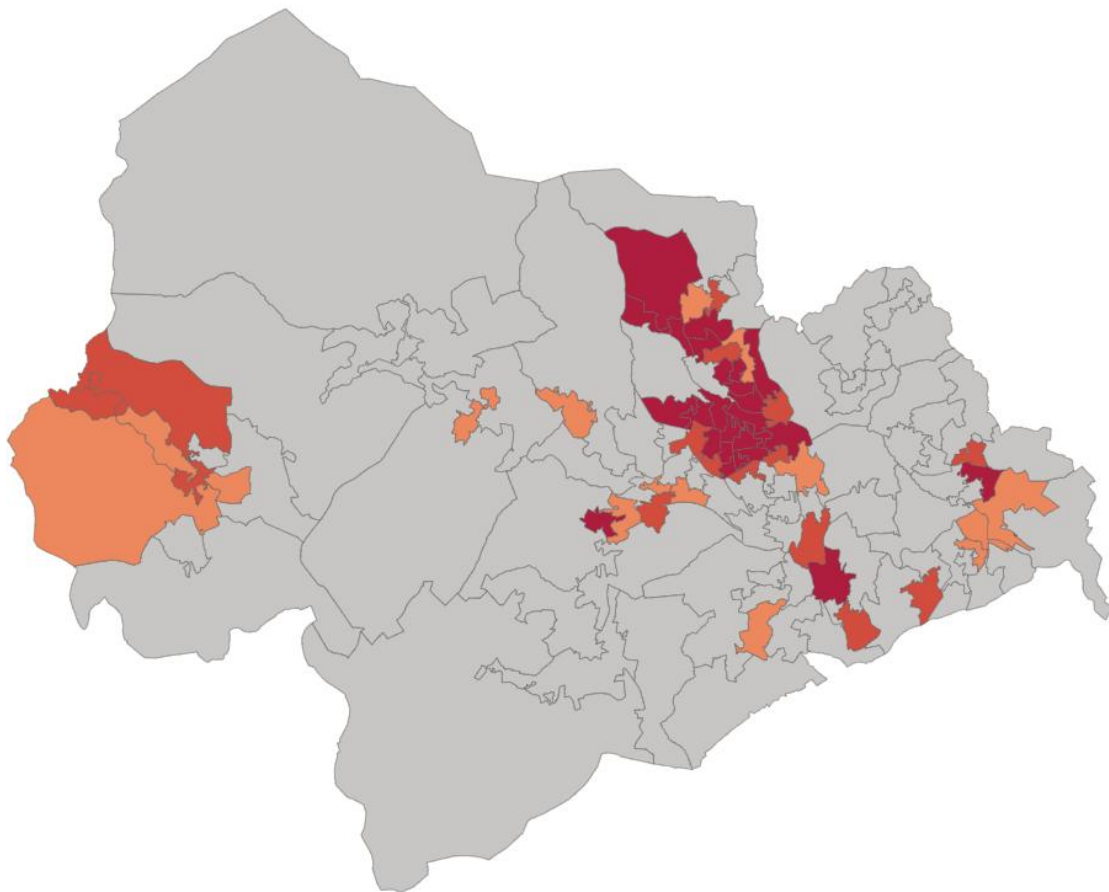

The English Index of Multiple Deprivation (IMD) is the official Government measure of relative deprivation for small areas. It is from the English Indices of Deprivation (IoD) and is based on data from seven individual domains called Income, Employment, Education Skills and Training, Health and Disability, Crime, Barriers to Housing and Services, and Living Environment. IoD also includes two supplementary indices called Income deprivation affecting children index (IDACI) and Income deprivation affecting older people index (IDAOPI).

This report provides information about neighbourhoods in Calderdale that are within the 30% most deprived nationally for IMD 2025. IMD uses LSOAs to report statistics for neighbourhood areas. LSOA is short for lower-layer super output area. LSOAs typically include populations about 1,600 people. There are 33,755 LSOAs in England of which 129 are in Calderdale.

Changes in data sources between IMD 2019 and IMD 2025

Each IMD provides a snapshot of relative deprivation at a point in time based on the latest available data at that time. Underlying data sources have changed significantly between IMD 2019 and IMD 2025. The extent of these changes should be considered alongside any comparison of individual LSOA results between the two indices.

For further information about these changes see “English Indices of Deprivation 2025 Technical report” <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/english-indices-of-deprivation-2025-technical-report>.
